U.O.Memo No.1951
10th March 1942.

Serial No.

The consolidated draft Petroleum Rules framed under Section 4 of the Act No.VI of 1942 revised and brought up-to-date, are submitted herewith for the consideration of Government. These rules are modell on the Government of India Petroleum Rules, 1937, wit modifications to suit local conditions. In these Rules, provisions relating to Importation and Transpo tation of Petroleum by sea contained in Parts II and III of Chapter II and III of Government of India Rule have been omitted as they apply to maritime Provinces The other salient features of the revised rules have been set forth in this office letter No.1150 dated 23rd November 1936 - "Flag D". The more important changes made are the following:-

1. Licenses for the transport of petroleum have been abolished and a chapter of rules on the transport of petroleum has been included.
2. The license fees have been enhanced with a view to compensate for the loss of revenue which would result from the abolition of tran port licenses.
3. Certain relaxations have been made in the cas of heavy petroleum i.e., petroleum having its flashing point not below 150° F.
4. The Chief Inspector has been made the licens- ing authority for all major licenses and the

and the District authority for minor licenses.

The draft rules provide for all purposes contemplated under Sections 5(2), 14(2), 21, 22 and 29 (1) of the Act. As they are complete in every respect, they may be taken into consideration and published in the official Gazette as required by Sub-Section 2 of Section 29 of the Petroleum Act before they are passed into law.

After the publication of the rules in the Official Gazette, both the rules and the Act may be brought into force from a specified date by a notification in the Gazette as required by Sub-Section (3) of Section 1 of the Act.

Draft Notifications empowering certain officers to exercise certain powers under Sections 13(1), 14(1), 15(1), & 17 and 26(1) of the Act are also submitted herewith for the consideration and orders of Government.

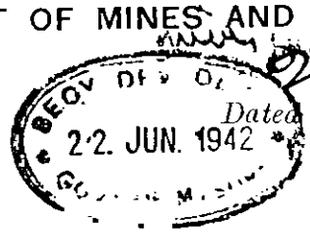
D. O. No. 2609



Dated Oorgaum, 19th June 1942.
(S. India).

Dear Mr. Vedavyasacharya,

It was published in all the leading papers some little time ago that the Government of India have issued a Press Communique prohibiting the use of kerosene as motor fuel, as a large number of lorries and busses were found using a mixture of kerosene and petrol for generating motive power for these conveyances resulting in reduced supply of kerosene for other purposes. I have not yet got a copy of this communique which I presume you can obtain easily in the Secretariat.

. . . It might interest you to know that one of the lorries here was found using petrol-kerosene mixture recently by the Special Superintendent of Police and it is quite possible that this practice is going on in other parts of the State also. As complaints of want of adquate supply of kerosene in some parts of the State have already been received, I would suggest that the use of kerosene for motor vehicles be prohibited.

Yours sincerely,

V. Vedavyasacharya, Esq., B.A.,

Kerosene as Motor Fuel Prohibited

Government Order

NEW DELHI, May 29.

THE Government of India have prohibited the use of kerosene in any form as a motor fuel, through the Motor (Kerosene Prohibition) Order, 1942, issued today.

In a Press Note published in March last, Government issued a warning on the use of kerosene as a motor fuel, pointing out that such use would be contrary to the provisions of the Motor Spirit Rationing Order and the Excise regulations. There is evidence, however, that kerosene is being used on an increasing scale as a motor fuel.

The use of kerosene as a motor fuel, besides involving some damage to engines, is contrary to the interests of the public at large. Supplies of kerosene, like petrol, are limited by restricted tankerage and transport capacity, and its indiscriminate use as a motor fuel must curtail the supplies required for other essential and legitimate purposes, such as cooking, lighting, and heating. The result will be that the price of an essential fuel will rise.

Government have, therefore, thought it necessary to prohibit the use of kerosene, in any form, as a motor fuel.

NOTIFICATION

New Delhi, the 26th May 1942

No. P. R. 353 (1)/42.—Whereas it appears to the Central Government that the use, on an increasing scale, of kerosene and similar oils known under other names as motor fuel in contravention of the Motor Spirit Rationing Order, 1941, and the Excise Law, is prejudicial to the efficient prosecution of the war and to the maintenance of supplies and services essential to the life of the community:

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by rule 81 of the Defence of India Rules, the Central Government is pleased to make the following Order, namely:—

THE MOTOR VEHICLES (KEROSENE PROHIBITION) ORDER, 1942

1. (1) This Order may be called the Motor Vehicles (Kerosene Prohibition) Order, 1942.

(2) It shall come into force on the first of ~~June, 1942~~.

2. In this Order, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(a) "petroleum" means any liquid hydrocarbon or mixture of hydrocarbons, and any inflammable mixture (liquid, viscous or solid) containing any liquid hydrocarbon;

(b) "dangerous petroleum" means petroleum having its flashing-point below seventy-six degrees Fahrenheit;

(c) "flashing point" of any petroleum means the lowest temperature at which it yields a vapour which will give a momentary flash when ignited, determined in accordance with the provisions of section 2 of the Petroleum Act, ~~1934~~ 1942;

(d) "authorised person" means any person authorised by the Central or Provincial Government for carrying out all or any of the provisions of this Order;

(e) "motor vehicle" has the meaning assigned to it in clause (18) of section 2 of the Motor Vehicles Act, ~~1939~~, 1942.

3. No person shall use in a motor vehicle for supplying motive power thereto, or possess or sell or otherwise supply for such use, any petroleum not being dangerous petroleum having its flashing point below 150°F., either alone or admixed in any proportion with any other petroleum or other substance.

4. Where any authorised person has reason to believe that any petroleum or admixture thereof is being used in a motor vehicle or possessed, sold or otherwise supplied in contravention of this Order, such person may—

(a) examine any such motor vehicle;

(b) enter, and inspect any premises on which any petroleum or admixture thereof is believed to be kept; and

(c) require the person in possession of any such motor vehicle and the occupier of such premises, or a person employed therein by the occupier, to give him on demand samples of any petroleum and of any admixtures thereof found in such motor vehicle or on such premises; and the person in possession of such motor vehicle or the occupier of such premises as the case may be, or his agents or servants shall furnish the means required by such authorised person for entry, inspection and examination.

5. If any person is convicted of an offence against this Order, in addition to any penalty to which he may be liable, the whole of the petroleum or admixture thereof in respect of which the offence was committed shall be confiscated.
